BAA's Right to First Refusal on Shute Hangar

Chair Grenier explained that the Minimum Standards say that the BAA has the right to first refusal should a lessee decide to place the hangar on the market. The hangar is of no use to the BAA.

Commissioner Gentili moved with a second from Commissioner Higbee that the Berlin Airport Authority has no interest in purchasing the hangar. So moved, the motion carried unanimously.

Commissioner Gentili moved to adjourn; Commissioner Higbee seconded and the motion carried. The meeting ended at 6:17 p.m.
