Fitness Test

We utilize the same physical fitness standards used by the New Hampshire Police Standards and Training Council to determine admission to the New Hampshire Police Academy. The physical agility test is based on the Cooper Aerobics Institute standards. For the Full-time Police Officer Academy you must pass at least the 35th percentile on both the entrance and exit tests. The Part-time Officer Academy and Law Package Students must pass at least the 35th percentile on the entrance test (there is no exit test). Do not attend Physical Ability Testing without having practiced the test. A vast majority of applicants underestimate the difficulty of the test and are not successful. ******

Sit-ups must be performed within 60 seconds, in the proper form. Participants start lying on their back, fingers interlaced behind the head, and feet secured by a helper. With the fingers remaining interlaced, the participant must use core strength to sit-up, touching their elbows to the top of the knees or beside the knees. When returning to the down position, shoulders must touch the ground. The buttocks must remain in contact with the ground at all times, and resting can only be done in the up position.

Push-ups are untimed and maximum effort. The participant will start in the up position and can only rest in the up position. The participant will place their hands just outside shoulder width, and must remain in the same position throughout the test. The participant must remain in a strict plank position during the entire test. A complete push-up is when the shoulders are level with the elbows and then returning to fully extended arms. During rest, the strict plank position must be maintained.

The 1 ½ mile run is conducted outdoors except in very extreme weather.
